

Whitemarsh
Information Systems Corporation

November 2007
www.wiscorp.com
Website Announcement

Whitemarsh Information Systems Corporation
2008 Althea Lane
Bowie, Maryland 20716
Tele: 301-249-1142
Email: mmgorman@wiscorp.com
Web: www.wiscorp.com

Greetings:

There are just three items in this November 2007 announcement:

- New SQL:200n standard documents
- Free Metabase Software
- Short Paper and New Book.

A new set of the SQL 200n standard documents has been posted to the website. The SQL 200n standard is in the DIS (Draft International Standard) stage. An IS (International Standards) ballot will most likely be started late 2007 and conclude during the early part of 2008. This ballot is an Up/Down ballot. Thus, the SQL 200n documents are SQL/2008.

The Whitemarsh metabase system is now free. Requests for downloads of the Single-User and Single-Metabase version can be submitted to Whitemarsh from the website. The link is from the front page.

The complete short paper series publications are still available. A new short paper, Data Management Quality is in final draft and will be published as a short paper in December. Also in first draft is a new book, Data Semantics Management. Hopeful publication of this book will be late this year.

The complete short paper series publications are still available.

Regards,

Michael M. Gorman
Matthew G. Gorman

